Specification

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because in fig.2 step S28 'PEPRODUCE ASSOCIATED CUSTOM FILE' should be replaced by 'REPRODUCE ASSOCIATED CUSTOM FILE'. In the same figure step S22 'NUMERCAL' should be change to 'NUMERICAL'. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-3, 5-8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C 102(e) as being anticipated by Uehara (US Pat. No.6118738).

Claims 6-10 will be discussed first.

Regarding Claim 6, Uehara discloses a recording medium playback apparatus for a recording medium playback system in which a first recording medium (see DVD folder of fig.1) having reproduction information recorded thereon and a second recording medium (see CD folder of fig.1) on which reproduction information and playback control information (see Read VMGI_MAT, TT_SRPT(A5) and read TOC(A6) of fig.3) for controlling a playback order of that reproduction information are recorded are both installable and which plays back said first and second recording media, said method comprising:

control means (see MP(207) of fig.1) for generating a custom file having said first recording medium alone registered therein (see fig.1 disk manager information memory device (300) and DVD reproduction system (205) and col. 5 lines 1-13 and col. 6 lines 1-6).

playing back means (see DVD reproduction system (205) and CD reproduction system (206) of fig.1) for playing back said first and second recording media installed in said recording medium playback system in accordance with registered contents of said custom file (see fig.1 CD reproduction system (206), DVD reproduction system (205) and col.3 lines 59-67 and col. 6 lines 1-14).

Regarding claim 7, Uehara teaches that control means includes:

management table generating means (see READ VMGI-MAT TT-SRPT(A5) and READ TOC (A6)) for determining said type of a recording medium to be stored in said recording medium playback system and generates a management table including type information of said recording medium (col.6 lines 27-58); and custom-file generating means (see write in memory device A7 of fig.3) for determining said type of said recording medium by referring to said management table upon reception of an instruction of registering said recording medium as said custom file, and registering said recording medium in said custom file to be assigned in association with said type (see fig.3 Identify disk type(A4), and col. 6 lines 59-67 and col. 7 lines 1-6) .

Regarding claim 8, Uehara teaches that when a recording medium registering instruction is issued during playback of said recording medium, said custom file generating means determines said type of said recording medium which is being played back by referring to said management table and registers said recording medium in said custom file to be assigned in association with said type (see col. 8 lines 18-33 and 47-57).

Art Unit: 2612

Regarding claim 10, Uehara teaches instruction receiving means for receiving an instruction of designating said custom file and said recording medium to be registered in said custom file (see fig. 4 set property to DVD mode (C1), identify disk physically (C2) Read manager information (C4) and fig. 45 set property to CD mode (D1), identify disk physically (D2), Read TOC(D4), and col. 6 lines 59-67 and col. 7 lines 37-42);

input receiving means for receiving an input of data about said custom file and said recording medium (see fig.21 and col. 13 lines 46-57 and lines 60-65); means for checking if said designated recording medium matches with classification of said designated custom file by referring to said management table(see col.8 lines 3-16) whereby said custom-file generating means registers said designating recording medium in said designating custom file when there is a match (see col. 8 lines 3-9).

Regarding Claims 1-3 and 5, these claims are method claims corresponding to apparatus claims 6-8 and 10, respectively. Therefore, claims 1-3 and 5 are analyzed and rejected as previously discussed with respect to claims 6-8 and 10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2612

5. Claims 4 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Uehara '738 in view of Yamauchi et al. (USPN 6,020,982).

Claim 9 will be discussed first. Regarding claim 9, Uehara teaches instruction receiving means for receiving an instruction of designating said custom file and said recording medium to be registered in said custom file (see fig. 4 set property to DVD mode (C1), identify disk physically (C2) Read manager information (C4) and fig. 45 set property to CD mode (D1), identify disk physically (D2), Read TOC(D4), and col. 6 lines 59-67 and col. 7 lines 37-42). However, Uehara fails to teach menu display means for displaying a selection menu for custom files where registration is to be made to thereby prompt a user to select one of said custom files and list display means for displaying a list of those of recording media stored in said recording medium playback system, which are registrable by referring to said management table.

In the same field of endeavor, Yamauchi teaches a recording playback apparatus (Fig. 1, machine 600) in which a first recording medium (Fig. 1, cards 811/400, unit 500, or VTRs 807/808) having reproduction information recorded thereon and a second recording medium (Fig. 1, cards 811/400, unit 500, or VTRs 807/808) having reproduction information recorded thereon. Yamauchi further teaches menu display means for displaying input sources to thereby prompt a user to select one of said input sources and list display means for displaying a list of those of recording media stored in said recording medium playback system (see Figs. 88-90; col. 4 line 33 – col. 5 line 10; col. 51 line 34 – col. 52 line 38). In light of the teaching from Yamauchi, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the recording medium playback apparatus disclosed by Uehara menu display means and list display means as claimed in order to allow a user to monitor at a glance which recording medium is currently played back

Regarding claim 4, this claim is a method claim corresponding to the apparatus 9. Therefore, claim 4 is analyzed and rejected as previously discussed with respect to claim 9.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Tajiri (US Pat. No. 6072757) discloses an apparatus and a method for determining a disc type. Park (US Pat. No. 5683253) discloses two reproducers in a disc-recording medium.
